Saturday, March 17 Pasadena

After a leisurely breakfast we will have a tour by one of the top horticulturalists at Huntington Garden. Henry Huntington and William Hertrich, developed the various plant collections that comprise the foundation of the Botanical Gardens. They molded a working ranch into a botanical collection of rare and exotic plants. They imported plants from many parts of the world to experiment with their cultivation in Southern California. The vast collection now includes California, Australian, Japanese, Chinese, and Palm gardens, a Conservatory, and one of the largest succulent collections in the world. We will have free time after the tour to explore the gardens on our own. Lunch at the garden is included.

Later we will visit a private garden before returning to the hotel. Evening at leisure. Breakfast, Lunch

We depart Pasadena after breakfast on our private motorboach for the exquisite Getty Center in Brentwood. The Getty Center features several gardens, fountains, and landscaping for public enjoyment, including a cactus garden, shaded hideaways, and spectacular views of the Santa Monica Mountains, the Pacific Ocean, and Los Angeles. The fine sculpture gardens are home to works by artists including Miró and Moore. Robert Irwin's Central Garden is an evolving work of art, with tree-lined walkways that lead visitors through extraordinary sights, sounds, and scents with more than 500 varieties of plant material. We will enjoy a picnic lunch on the terrace and free time to explore the art collection. It includes pre-20th-century European paintings, drawings, illuminated manuscripts, sculpture, and decorative arts; 19th- and 20th-century American, European, and Asian photographs; and contemporary and modern sculpture.

Monday, March 19 Santa Barbara-Montecito

This morning we will have a walking tour of Santa Barbara including the courthouse, the Mission and the Rose garden.

In the afternoon we will have a special private opening of Lotusland Botanic Garden in Montecito. Our docents will lead us in small groups through this delightful enclave with rare and exotic botanicals in an idyllic setting in the foothills of Santa Barbara.

Lotusland is a globally reknowned (and locally treasured) 37-acre estate and home to more than 3,000 different plants from around the world. The gardens were created by Madame Ganna Walska, who owned the property from 1941 until her death in 1984.

The fascinating life and career of Madame Ganna Walska culminated with 43 years of designing unusual display gardens with exotic plants. In her writings she described herself as “an enemy of the average” – truly a woman of unique accomplishments, philosophies and imagination. Lotusland is home to several extraordinary collections including rare cycads, cacti, palms and euphorbias. Additional gardens feature ferns, aloes, lotuses, water lilies, bromeliads and cactus garden with more than 300 species.

After our tour we will enjoy wine on the terrace. Later we return to Santa Barbara with the evening at leisure. Breakfast, Wine reception

This morning we will visit an impressive estate, Casa del Herrero, or the “House of the Blacksmith,” . We will be transported back to Montecito in the 1920s and 1930s – the heyday of the original owner George Fox Steedman. Designed by George Washington Smith, the Casa is one of the finest examples of Spanish Colonial Revival architecture in America. It is included on the National Register of Historic Places.

We will visit the house and the Moorish-style gardens created by Ralph Stevens, Lockwood de Forest, and Francis T. Underhill. After the tour we will have free time in Santa Barbara.

Late afternoon we'll take a "foodie stroll" through the Tuesday Farmer's Market and then enjoy an evening of market cuisine and local wine with Chef Brandon Cogan at the celebrated Wine Cask Restaurant.
